

Dear Mr. Rastin and Mr. Taylor,

I have previously been in contact with your Mr. Alan Greaves, the Cardiff representative seeking his advice on the best way forward to contact NARPO.

The reason for my contact is to scour for possible twofold voluntary assistance:

- a) To ascertain interest in volunteering with the South Wales Police Museum . To assist with the cataloguing of the museum, for those who would be willing to speak in the future, when the museum is open, on various topics or regions, etc.
- b) To scope for various personal `stories' based on events experienced, or involved with, in order to interview, and possibly record and film, to keep these accounts alive, in maintaining SWP heritage

Two possible options are listed below:

1. Wait until August whereby he would be willing to put a questionnaire into the magazine, as an insert.
2. Print off the single sheet and stuff into stamped envelopes for him to arrange for the mailing list to be printed on labels, attach to the envelopes and sent off. (Approximately 700)

The reason for my contact is to ask your help with the same dilemma. Would it be possible to insert a questionnaire into your area publication, with paid for postage and stuffed envelopes, naturally understanding and in accordance with the data protection act? Or, do you have any alternative suggestions which you feel may be more advantageous to us?

If you are willing to help us in this matter, I would naturally welcome a call or email from yourselves. I would need to know the quantity and so forth. For your further information, the questionnaires have not yet been written. We estimate that we would like to send the mailer within the next two weeks.

I do hope to hear from you soon. Please do not hesitate to contact me on my mobile phone number listed below.

With kind regards,

Terina.
